It was compiled rather than written, during short intervals of leisure, from a variety of memoranda and notes relating to the people, social habits, occupations, sports, and physical characteristics of the lower part of Alta-California. In the year 1852 this was a thinly-populated country, solely devoted to the raising of cattle and horses. The proprietors of the soil were mostly native Californians of Spanish or Mexican descent, their labourers and herdsmen being either half-castes or of pure Indian blood. From the 37th parallel of latitude southwards, the social aspect of the country was unchanged by its cession to the United States.
